

CANADIAN CAMPSITES AND OUTDOOR PROGRAMS

July 2004

General Information

Members of Scouts Canada enjoy the company of a large number of international Scouting visitors each year. Many of these arrive as groups and stay at one or more of our campsites. We hope the list below will assist potential visitors in choosing a location that is right for them, and their plans, while they are in Canada. To make sure everyone has a good time, there are a few national policy concerns, which international visitors need to know. All campers and visitors at Canadian Campsites are required to follow these policies.

1. Scouts Canada's Adults Screening Policy

All adults who work for Scouts Canada or who are registered members are required to undergo an extensive screening process to comply with our Child Protection Policies. Adults visiting from other countries are required to prove membership of their National Scout Associations with a national membership card as well as travel approval for the group from their National Association. Adults traveling with the group, who are approved helpers, will be required to sign a Scouts Canada "Hold Harmless" agreement on arrival at camp (see www.scouts.ca/media/documents/harmless200309.pdf)

2. Scouts Canada's Alcohol Policy

There shall be no alcohol or recreational drug/substance consumed or made available on any Scout Property...owned or leased. There shall be no alcohol or recreational drug/substance consumed or made available during any Program activity. "Program activities" include meetings, camps, hikes, training programs (Wood Badge, workshops, etc.), Scouters Conferences, "Scout Night" with sports teams and similar functions. No person shall consume alcohol or any other recreational drug/substance within a time frame, which would negatively affect their ability to carry out a duty of care. There shall be no exclusions of youth from any Scouting activity so alcohol or recreational drugs/substances may be consumed by adult members.

3. Insurance Requirement

Visiting groups who are not members of Scouts Canada will require proof of CAN$2 million of liability coverage for activities in North America to stay at any Scouts Canada camp. "A Certificate of Insurance" from a National Scout Association will provide this proof. It is the responsibility of visiting leaders to ensure that they obtain this certificate for presentation when they arrive at camp.

Scouts Canada strongly recommends that visiting groups be covered under (or obtain prior to leaving home) a medical and accident insurance plan that will cover them during their visit.

There may be additional conditions and local regulations associated with individual camps which will be advised when you book your accommodation.

Please contact the camps you are interested in using the contact information provided in the list for each province, region or camp. We also encourage you to visit the listed web sites for additional information about the camps and Scouting regions you are interested in.

The list is organized alphabetically by province. You might find it useful to have a map of Canada in front of you when you are planning your trip and possible camp locations.

Camp Alloway (180 km. from Winnipeg). A 40.5 hectare wilderness site in the Big Whiteshell Provincial Park, normally accessible by user's own watercraft from mid-May to mid-October, by snow vehicles, skis, snowshoes or foot across the lake (about 3 km) during freeze-up (normally mid-December to mid-March), or by hiking around Big Whiteshell Lake (about 15 km over rough trail). Aside from a large boathouse for equipment storage and emergency shelter, eight canoes with paddles and life jackets (stored in the boat-house), and one outhouse, there are no facilities. Water is taken from the lake and treated. Suitable for experienced Scouts, Venturers and Rovers only.

Camp Amisk (5 km south of Winnipeg). On the La Salle River, includes five bush and six field campsites suitable for groups of all sizes for tent camping. Fire pits and outhouses are provided. Drinking water is available only in spring, summer and fall. There are two buildings on site, a doughnut shelter with fire ring and a storage shed (containing tables, benches and some program equipment). Two kitchen shelters and an emergency telephone are available.

Delta Beach (24 km. north of Portage La Prairie) located on the south shore of Lake Manitoba. Facilities include a fully-contained, winterized, rustic cabin suitable for the use of all sections, year-round. There is an internal holding tank, which supplies drinking water for the kitchen sink and the washrooms with flush toilet and basin. Lake water is safe for swimming, laundry and dishes. There are three small rooms with one bunk (two beds) each, and 5 bunks (10 beds) in a larger room (also suitable for a craft/games area), for a total sleeping capacity of 16 (though more can be slept on the floor of the larger room). The kitchen/dining area contains a freezer, two fridges, and a built-in oven and 4-element stove, plus tables and chairs/benches. There are also currently two marked tenting sites, an outhouse and a fire ring.

George Lake (12 km. south east of Pointe du Bois). A 60 hectare wilderness campsite on George Lake in the Whiteshell Provincial Park and accessible only by boat or canoe down the Winnipeg River followed by a 4 km. portage into camp. A single, uninsulated cabin is on-site containing a fireplace, cook stove, some cooking equipment and bunk bed frames that provides sleeping accommodation for 15-20 people. A pit-type outhouse is provided. Drinking water is taken from George Lake. Mainly Scouts, Venturers and Rover use this camp.
